Description of Workcamp: VFP01-14A SUSTAINABLE LIVING, VERMONT 29-JUN to 12-JUL CONS/ENVI AGE 18+ 10 VOLS

LIFECYCLING CENTER, MONTEPELIER, VERMONT is working to create a Sustainability Center, where people will come to learn and experience the values and practical aspects of sustainable living and design. Your hosts Mary Fetting, David Maynard and David Ludt are educators with over 30 years of combined experience. Come and work alongside us as we begin to create a future for ourselves and our planet. Please refer to David's website, Lifecycling.net for more information.

WORK: Volunteers will work alongside project organizers to build an outdoor kitchen and gathering space in addition to competing projects begun last summer. Volunteers will learn about sustainable construction and practice carpentry in addition to learning clay plastering techniques on a straw bale building. They will also gain exposure to people and cultures of different nations. . Volunteers will develop leadership skills by learning how to delegate and run small work teams. Other educational themes may include forest gardening, low impact living and ecological principles.

STUDY THEME: Living principles of ecology, sustainability and non-violent communication.

ACCOMODATION: Volunteers will live communally in tents which will be provided by the host. There is no internet service on site but we will provide plenty of opportunities to connect. We will cook together and work together as a community. Please bring a camping pad, sleeping bag, swimming attire, work clothing, sturdy shoes, a sense of humor and adventure!

LOCATION: East Montpelier is 20 minute drive from Montpelier Vermont, 1 hour from Burlington Vermont, 3 hours from Boston or Montreal.

LEISURE ACTIVITIES: The area is rich and diverse with cultural, artistic and recreational offerings. We will have opportunities to visit different areas and experience Vermont in the summer. Working with the interests of participants there may be swimming, hiking, farm visits, alternative building site visits, theater productions, live music, urban outings and more.

TERMINAL: Montpelier, Vermont. Montpelier is easily accessible from Boston, Montreal and New York City. Pick-up can be arranged at the Montpelier bus drop-off at City Hall in Montpelier, Vermont on Sunday, June 29 or August 3rd, depending on project.

SPECIAL REMARKS: This project requires volunteers to step outside their comfort zone and to have a desire to learn about and practice the principles of sustainability.

INSURANCE: VFP covers all volunteers in Short Term Projects and MTV01, 04, and 05 with SCI insurance for medical and emergency coverage. In all other projects volunteers are expected to have their own medical insurance and there is only emergency coverage.
