Description of Workcamp: FSL-SPL-237
Mysore (Health on Stage)

The Project:

Public health dialogue on public health issues is becoming increasingly important in India to improve the health status of the people. The project 'Health on Stage' is the continuation and the follow up of global effort spearheaded by Asia Europe Foundation and FSL India to mobilise the local community for public health dialogue. It is a unique model that attempts to pool up of young international volunteers and engage them in intensive dialogue with local community by using 'forum theatre' as the medium for communication.

Health on stage will be implemented in rural areas in Mysore. Water related issues and water borne disease will be the important components of Health on Stage programme. Initially, the volunteers will visit slums and interact with the local community to survey and study health related issues. Based on the survey findings, the volunteers with the help of a forum theatre expert will rehearse and design a street play to communicate the message and promote Health on Stage.

After a brief inter-cultural exchange and learning the applications of 'forum theatre', the volunteers of 'Health on Stage' will perform for three weeks focusing on public health with all its social and cultural dimensions. Under the broader framework of Water and Public Health, a wide range of local issues will be taken up for dialogue and seek solutions. Hygiene and sanitation, waterborne diseases, preventive and curative aspects of health, water and environment, water conservation, indigenous water purification measures will be the issues to be dealt with.

The forum theatre will not be so much with language based. It will predominantly be body language and action based communications. Initially the volunteers would spend time in social mapping to identify the local water and health issues and through forum theatres analyze the issues with the community and design locally available solutions. This will trigger the thought of the people they would realized that it is they who are principally responsible to find out locally available solutions to their numerous water and public health problems. A local person skilled in form theatre will work with the volunteers throughout the workcamp.

Description of Workcamp: Badami - Karnataka (Heritage conservation / Awareness): WHV-FSL-SPL-238

The Project:

Historically Badami or Vatapi was the centre of ancient Chalukyan glory. Badami today is a sleepy little town on a red sandstone ridge. The Chalukyas are credited with some of the best traditions of Dravidian architecture including an experimental blend of older South Indian temple architecture and the Nagara style of north India. It was home to several rock-cut temples. Badami's Archeological interest lies in a series of cave temples of 6th century AD excavated for both Hindu and Jain deities.

The workcamp in Badami is a World Heritage Volunteers (WHV) project and is coordinated by the UNESCO World Heritage Centre (WHC) in collaboration with the Coordinating Committee for International Voluntary Service (CCIVS) and within the framework of the UNESCO World Heritage Programme.

As part of UNESCO, the World Heritage Centre (WHC) deals with questions related to World Heritage. One of the programmes of the WHC is the World Heritage Education Programme (WHE) which deals with activities aimed at sensitising young people about World Heritage.

The main objective of the WHV workcamp in Badami would be to spark interest among the local community by involving children and international volunteers in activities that promote sensitivity and respect towards the World Heritage site in Pattadakal which is located 22 kilometers from Badami. Work camps in Badami will concentrate on the protection of the cultural heritage and the sites of historical importance and on creating awareness among the locals, school children, tour-guides and tourists. In 2013, FSL-India organized the 'World Heritage Volunteers' camp in Badami with the cooperation of UNESCO - World Heritage Center.

The project's aim is to raise awareness among the school children from in and around Badami. FSL India will organize activities for the school children within the boundaries of World Heritage Site to organize following activities:

A. Clean up activities around the monuments in Pattadakal and Badami, which is most visited by tourists and Pilgrims. The objective is to spark interest among the local community by involving local and international volunteers in activities that promote sensitivity and respect towards the World Heritage site.

B. Preparation of Nursery: Planting coconut and mango saplings at the nursery. One child will be identified to look after each sapling. It would be a good activity to address this change and involve the local children to plant trees and teach them to look after them till they can survive.

C. Organizing Drawing competition for the school children and opening it up to local people by setting up an open gallery. Involve local Authorities, Guide Association, teachers, and any other potential local partners. This would help build partnership for later work.

D. Awareness Walk/ Street Play with locals - The volunteers and locals will prepare a skit on heritage conservation and environment issues. The Street Play involves imparting of messages on Heritage conservation through acting and miming. The Awareness Walk will be a procession in the main area and we will spread messages on ecology, hygiene and conservation.

E. Initiate active participation of youth by encouraging school children to become 'Young Guardians / Ambassadors' of the Heritage site. To achieve this, we will form a 'Heritage Club' in the school.

Location:

Badami is located 22 kilometers from Pattadakal which is listed as a World Heritage Site. In 1987, UNESCO inscribed the group of monuments at Pattadakal as a World Heritage site. It is famous for rock cut and other structural temples. It is located in a ravine at the foot of a rugged, red sandstone outcrop that surrounds Agastya lake. The nearest airport to Badami is Belgaum, which is about 190 kilometers away. Belgaum is connected to Mumbai by domestic flights. Bangalore is the nearest international airport located at a distance of about 500 kilometers from Badami. The exact Meeting Point will be mentioned in the info sheets.

Accommodation:

Description of Workcamp: Hampi (Heritage Conservation / Awareness) : WHV-FSL-SPL-240

The Project:

Located in the central part of the state of Karnataka, in the southern part of India, Hampi is definitely one of the most interesting travel destinations on the map of India. It is famous for its ruins belonging to the erstwhile medieval Hindu kingdom of Vijaynagar, now declared a UNESCO World Heritage site. The temples of Hampi, its monolithic sculptures and monuments are breath-taking. The Hindu style of architecture found at Hampi speaks of the splendour of the Vijaynagar Empire.

The workcamp in Hampi is a World Heritage Volunteers (WHV) project and is coordinated by the UNESCO World Heritage Centre (WHC) in collaboration with the Coordinating Committee for International Voluntary Service (CCIVS) and within the framework of the UNESCO World Heritage Programme.

Description of Workcamp: haramshala ¿ McLeodganj (Tibetan Culture / Environment / Construction) : FSL-SPL-241

The Project:

Valleys of the Himalayas - This small paradise on earth is home to the His Holiness Dalai Lama and to a significant Tibetan settlement in India. Dharamsala is set in the backdrop of the snow-clad peaks of Dhaulathar Mountains. It is the capital of the Tibetan Government in exile and the residence of the Dalai Lama.

FSL-India has been conducting regular workcamps in McLeodganj, Dharamsala for almost 6 years now and has formed a good network of local partners in the region. In the first two weeks of the camp, the volunteers will take part in construction of the school building and the center. Furthermore, the volunteers will have the chance to support a local Indian/Tibetan school in need of simple renovation work and interact with the school children. There will be skilled laborers hired to work along with the volunteers. The project will also include an awareness campaign for the protection of the environment and solid waste management in cooperation with the Tibetan welfare office. Volunteers will also teach children about basic English and Mathematics, Health and Hygiene, and Environmental protection through creative learning methods like art, music, games,

During the Camp, volunteers will get the opportunity to learn about the Tibetan culture and the different issues related to the exile of its people and the re-settlement in India. There will be cultural activities, daily visits to important cultural sites and exchange with the Tibetan Youth with the support of the Tibetan Welfare Office. On the third week of the camp volunteers will take part in a four-day trekking activity around the mountains of Dharamsala and Triund.

Location:

Dharamsala is located in the state of Himachal Pradesh, North India, 500 kilometers from Delhi. Dharamsala is accessible by bus on a daily basis from New Delhi and other smaller cities of North India. The nearest railway stations are Pathankot and Kangra Mandir. Description of Workcamp: Kundapur - Karnataka (Yoga/ Meditation / Kids) : FSL-WC-567

The Project:

Kundapur is a town situated near the beach on the west coast of Karnataka state, and is very close to the Western Ghats (a mountain ridge). The Western Ghats is India's prime zone for bio-diversity and known for its animal and plant species in this region. FSL-India has been involved in developing projects for many years in this region and has now formed a very strong network of local partners and local volunteers. Invariably this is one of the prime locations for FSL-India to initiate development interventions in partnership with the local NGOs and civil society organisations.

The volunteers will learn the Basics of Yoga and Meditation during the work camp. Every day there will be topics covered by a professional master (the person in charge of yoga and meditation classes), which will be practiced by the volunteers. Apart from this, volunteers will also help in creating awareness among the locals and school children on issues like Health and Hygiene, environmental protection, eco-clubs, eco-tourism, solid waste management etc.

The work camp also involves teaching children from poor and marginalized communities about basic English and Mathematics, Health and Hygiene, and Environmental protection through creative learning methods like art, music, games etc. There will also be house visits and meetings with local rural people as part of inter-cultural learning and to give awareness on health, education and hygiene. As part of the cultural exchange, volunteers will witness and participate in the cultural programs with local community.

Location:

Kundapur is a coastal town in Udupi district, Karnataka state in South India. Cities near to Kundapur include: Udupi (35 kms), Mangalore (95 kms) and Bangalore (435 kms). People coming to Kundapur fly into Mangalore or Bangalore International Airport. The nearest airport is Mangalore International Airport, around 100 kilometers from Kundapura. Kundapur also can be reached from Mumbai, Goa, Bangalore and Kerala by train/bus. Kundapura is well connected to other parts of the country by National Highway -17. Kundapura is also connected by the Konkan Railway, which runs from Mumbai to Mangalore. Kundapura railway station is about 4 kilometers from the town. The exact Meeting Point will be mentioned in the info sheets.

Slums with migrant labourers have come up in the township and extend to surrounding villages affecting their lives. Villages located immediately above the township face serious threat of water shortage and need immediate measures of water conservation. The area is mountainous where farming is the main stay of their lives and is practiced on small terraces.

Work: A series of check Dams, irrigation tanks, earthen ponds and development of natural springs is planned to be taken up in this area. Some of these community structures developed earlier also need maintenance and minor renovations to increase their recharge capacity. Depending on the weather conditions works on one or more such structures will be taken up with the help of volunteers. Volunteers will dig earth, clean the silt and make or/and rejuvenate and renovate the structures for effective reserve of water. Along with physical work, volunteers will also be required to educate people on environmental concerns and protection.
