Credit card is useless in the camp location. Please prepare enough Japanese cash (at least 20,00 0JPY) to buy daily personal item and souvenirs.

DESCRIPTION OF WORKCAMP:

With the support of Mine slow tourism network, volunteers have many chances to deeply experience a rural Japanese school life in Yamaguchi area. A local group revitalizing rural farm village started their project 2 year ago to provide places for the local Youth and adults to interact each other. They appeal the importance of self-sufficient and sustainable life. The local partner is looking for volunteers who is mature, energetic and interested in revitalizing the community and accelerate communication among Japanese and international members. CIEE Japan started STV in 2014 with a Russian organization and we continued hosting a summer workcamp with mixed nationalities in 2015. This year, it will be 3th anniversary to run this camp. Mine Tourism guide (ENGLISH) <http://english.karusuto.com/> Mishima island <http://hagikaiun.sakura.ne.jp/> Work: -Prepare and support 3 days Mishima island camp for local teenagers (Elementary - High school) during August 7-9. -There is slight chance that this camp will be cancelled if the weather is too bad or there are short on students applying for the camp -Intercultural exchange with local community and accelerate communication among Japanese and international members. -Clean traditional Japanese share house and experience the lifestyle -Experience ZAZEN meditation at local temple -Participate at a local BON festival (August 13)

ACCOMODATION/FOOD:

Meals:

Volunteers take turns and cook by themselves every day. Fresh rice and vegetables will be provided by a local farmer. A volunteer is expected to eat rice, miso soup, fish, egg, Tofu, beans on a daily basis without any problem

LOCATION:

Mine is a neighboring city to Hagi and it is 30 minutes away from Shin Yamaguchi Station which is the hub station for bullet train. The camp location is within the area of a mysterious Akiyoshido Cave and a beautiful Beppu Benten pond They became a popular touristic spot in recent years. A volunteer needs at least 10,000 JPY in cash if she/he wants to go sightseeing on free-day.

Hagi is located in Yamaguchi prefecture, in the west part of Honshu, the Mainland of Japan, and faces the Sea of Japan. It is a small local city with the population of 55,000. Mishima island is located approximately 44 km from mainland Hagi, it has a population of 800 and Mishima cattle (Japanese native cattle) is registered as a Japanese National Treasure in 1928, and is one of only two remaining breeds of native cattle in the country.

Terminal:

Fukuoka Airport (DOMESTIC)

Kansai International Airport (INTERNATIONAL)

Since INTERNATIONAL airport terminal is 500 km away from the camp location, we recommend you to take a domestic flight. From Fukuoka airport, you can take a local train to get to the hub station ¿Hakata¿. From Hakata station to Shin Yamaguchi station, you can take a bullet train (Shinkansen). It will be 40-60 minutes ride.

DESCRIPTION OF WORKCAMP:

Background: TENKI-MURA was established in 1987 (registered as NPO in 1994) to improve the surroundings of children in Kusatsu area. Since their slogan is "The earth is a playground" they have been hosting many hands-on programs and organizing many outdoor events in the forest, lakeside and playground. Their activities also help parents have closer relationship within the community. Since 2015, TENKI-MURA start putting more focuses on childcare for disabled children as well as their parents for mental support. To pursue the organizational vision and ideality, the staff has been working on the reality of disabled children and their surroundings. From 2014, we host 2 days workcamp leader orientation at this location. Camp leaders learn how to cook from a scratch, does many case-study/feedbacks with TENKI-MURA staff. CIEE have very close relationship with this organization. CIEE Japan started STV with TENKI-MURA in 2004 and it will be 13th anniversary this summer. TENKI-MURA official homepage: <http://www.biwako.ne.jp/~nt-tenki/> TENKI-MURA Facebook <https://www.facebook.com/nt.tenkimura> Work: -Camping with children Volunteers help day camp for elementary school children (6 to 12 years old, about 20 children in total). Volunteers are expected to act as their leaders. Volunteers cook, play in the river (sometimes fish catching) and make a secret basement while making sure that children are all safe. Not only day camp but also summer camp volunteers take children for 2-3 days in an isolated village. ZUTTO is an old Japanese-style house it has been there for 150 years. During the camp, you will pick up vegetables on the mountain, play games around the Hosokawa River and cook fresh pizza hand-made stone oven. You will have a chance to go experience a hot spring nearby. -Taking care of handicapped children TENKI-MURA has played an active role to support those who have disabilities. There are about 10 handicapped children who need support for their daily life. Most activities are taking place indoors because of the safety reason but they sometime take children to a camp for social inclusion. In 2017, TENKI MURA is planning to organize 2 days camp where non-handicapped children and handicapped children are mixed so that they can interact and help each other. This camp will take place at KODOMONO KUNI (which means a nation for children) which is located in alongside with lake Biwa (the largest freshwater lake in Japan). 2. We look for those who respect other cultures and have an interest in traditional Japanese culture and modern art, and interest of this "SUZU 2017: Oku-Noto Triennale" concept.
3. A motivation letter (more than 5 sentences long) is required. Please include your interest, motivation, experience and strength of yourself in English or Japanese.

A long sleeved T shirts and trousers, work clothes (which can get dirty), bath towel, toiletries, work shoes (which can get dirty. No sandal in work days) and hat/cap.

DESCRIPTION OF WORKCAMP:

Background: "SUZU 2017: Oku-Noto Triennale" aims to be an unprecedented festival in which participating artists can rediscover the charm of the place, its patterns of life and its people, while engaging locals and supporters from elsewhere. Artworks installed across the region, from the sotoura to the uchiura, will not only show a new way to explore the Oku-Noto cape, but also suggest future directions for the oyashio-culture, including a relationship between the Japanese archipelago and the continent. Local delicacies from the sea and mountains prepared according to traditional recipes; kiriko lanterns which are believed to relate to sea spirits; suzuyaki (unglazed ware) pottery, agehama-style salt fields (artificially flooded salt pans set above the high-tide mark), and Noto-gawara (Noto roofing tiles) ¿ all of these distinctive things encountered and experienced here remind us of the foundational layers of Japanese culture. This archetype of Japanese culture preserved in Suzu presents a forgotten Japan of profound significance for the current era, when we must consider the foundation and future of Japan in the face of global environmental issues and the corruption of ethical values within capitalism. Let's create an art festival where traditional culture resonates with contemporary art. CIEE Japan started an annual Triennale international workcamp 2 years ago (Niigata in 2015, Nara in 2016) and it will be 3rd anniversary this summer. WEBSITE (ENGLISH) <http://oku-noto.jp/en/about/> Work: Volunteer's activities may vary according to the artists and locations. There may be work in carpentry, handwork and cleaning. Many of them are international artists who play an active role in international art communities. List of all artists <http://oku-noto.jp/en/artists/> The hosting committee expects that local residents in Suzu and related organizations can be more conscious of taking an active role in international community by interacting/working with international volunteers.

COMPLEMENTARY ACTIVITIES - LEISURE ACTIVITIES:

The city of Suzu is located at the point where the warm current (kuroshio) and cold current (oyashio) in the Sea of Japan meet. The region has a unique geography bounded by the sotoura ("outer harbor") to the north and uchiura ("inner bay") to the south. It is blessed with a verdant natural landscape, where diverse flora from both eastern and western regions of Japan co-exist, nourished by seasonal winds from the continent laden with moisture. Suzu flourished as an important port when maritime trade across the Sea of Japan was active, including Japanese missions to Tang China, official envoys from Bokkai, and the routes plied by kitamae-bune, the freight ships of the Edo-period. However, when the means of transportation shifted from sea to land, Suzu's location became a disadvantage, leading to decline and depopulation. The current population of 15,000 is less than half of the figure in 1954 (38,000) when the city was established.

Suzu would be regarded as one of the most isolated places in Japan according to the dominant values of today. However, it remains a fount of Japanese culture where various cultures dispersed across Japan have accumulated over generations, as seen in its festivals and rituals, such as kiriko (giant lanterns), festival floats, and yobare (inviting families, friends and neighbours to feasts on festival days). Paradoxical as it may sound, it is this uniqueness that gives this place the quality of a singularity capable of bearing hope for our contemporary era.

Work

Volunteers will help tea farmers to take care of organic farms. Weeding is one of the most important and needed works. We will also organize a one day event in Wazuka for cultural exchange such as cooking and sharing international meals, playing games, and musics, etc. The event will be a chance to interact with local people and make them open-minded to international relationships.

DESCRIPTION OF WORKCAMP:

Background This workcamp has been organized with a Non-profit organization for the study of producing organic Japanese tea since 2001. There are some farmers who produce organic tea in Wazuka town. The situation of organic farming within Japan is still very challenging, so that getting help from volunteers is important. The brand of the tea in Wazuka is getting famous and the farmers are hoping that this tea will make this rural area famous enough to invite tourists. Volunteers will also learn about the history of tea in Japan.

COMPLEMENTARY ACTIVITIES - LEISURE ACTIVITIES:

Exchange parties, experiencing Japanese culture(especialy tea), home stay, etc.

ACCOMODATION/FOOD:

Volunteers will stay public house. Meals will be cooked by volunteers by turns. Sleeing bag is necessary.
